Karim Ghandour, the managing director of MLG Family Office, is an entrepreneur who parlayed his 17 years of family financial planning experience into a company that offers financial coaching to fellow entrepreneurs. As an independent certified estate planner, Karim draws on his own passions to guide individuals and family businesses through their legacy planning, including long-term wealth management and planned giving.

Beginning his career in Ottawa, Canada in 1993, Karim worked as a financial consultant with MetLife, one of the top financial services companies in the world. His career path brought him back to the Middle East where he works with clients in Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Jordan and the UAE. He is fluent in both English and Arabic and is a dual Canadian and Lebanese citizen.

Karim graduated with a Bachelor of Arts from Carleton University in Ottawa, Canada and is an active member of the Million Dollar Round Table, becoming the area chair in 2010.
