

Loïc Fauchon

President of the World Water Council, France

Loïc Fauchon has participated in creating and developing the World Water Council. Since 2000, he is Governor of the World Water Council, first Loïc Fauchon served as Special Advisor to the President and as Vice President. M. Fauchon became president in 2005.

He is currently CEO of Groupe des Eaux de Marseille. He also spent much of his career in the public sector. Loïc Fauchon was chief of staff to the mayor of Marseille and general secretary of the city of Marseille.

Loïc Fauchon was also mayor of the city of Trets, Bouches-du-Rhone, for eight years. Back In 1977, he founded the humanitarian organization "Transahara", which organizes aid missions in sub-Saharan Africa and Eastern Europe.